

Silver Whiskers Petsitting Inclement Weather Plan

In the event of extreme weather during a scheduled petsitting visit, Silver Whiskers Petsitting will make all attempts to maintain the regularly scheduled visit(s). However, inclement weather such as heavy snow and/or ice and even heavy rain where driving becomes dangerous due to flooded roadways may require the implementation of a contingency plan to safely get to your home to care for your pets.

Please rank these contingency plans based on your preference, where "1" is your top choice:

(Indicate Ranking)

Beth Nolley will reduce the number of daily visits, which will be made as soon as it is possible to drive to your home, charged at your normal service rate plus a $25 hazardous driving fee. This fee will be incurred to cover the risk, extra time, and gas required to take longer routes to/from your home in order to avoid hazardous side roads. Beth will provide extra food/water to accommodate your pets if reduced daily visits become necessary. If your pets are scheduled for only one daily visit, Beth will do that visit as soon as road conditions permit.

Beth Nolley will call on a neighbor to fill in if she is unable to drive to your home due to hazardous road conditions. Obviously, you will not be charged for this visit. Please indicate below the contact information for your neighbor(s) and make sure they have a key to your house before you leave town. Also, please inform your neighbor ahead of time that he or she will be the emergency backup petsitter.
